

State Election Ballot of Nov 7th, 2006

The Rockland Board of Selectmen at a duly posted public meeting held on July 17th, 2006 voted to put the following questions on the State Election Ballot of Nov 7th, 2006.

Ballot Questions

Proposition 2 ½ Over-Ride

Selectmen's Vote: 3-2

Ballot Question: "Shall the Town of Rockland be allowed to assess an additional $1,300,000.00 in Real Estate and Personal Property taxes for the purpose of funding the Police Department, Fire Department and School Department for the fiscal year beginning July first, two thousand and six?"

Capital Exclusion Question #1

Selectmen's Vote: 5-0

"Shall the Town of Rockland be allowed to assess an additional $250,000.00 in Real Estate and Personal Property taxes for the purpose of replacing and installing a roof at the public library, including all associated labor and disposal of materials of said roof and including costs incidental and related thereto, for the fiscal year beginning July first, two thousand and six?"

Capital Exclusion Question #2

Selectmen's Vote: 5-0

"Shall the Town of Rockland be allowed to assess an additional $250,000.00 in Real Estate and Personal Property taxes for the purpose of paying expenses related to architectural planning for the construction of a new middle school including costs incidental and related thereto, for the fiscal year beginning July first, two thousand and six?"

For purposes of clarification:

- Over-Rides increase the tax rate permanently or basically forever.
- Capital Exclusions increase the tax rate for only one year and they fund a specific need.
